

Battery MEL Laboratory Business Development (technology & market analysis)

Development of a structured business case for a battery/energy storage laboratory environment: use cases, target customers, service portfolio (testing/validation/consulting), competition and market analysis, price/cost structure, and go-to-market proposal (including risks and differentiating features).

Qualification level: Advanced Bachelor or Master level