

Development of a GUI for existing sensor systems (quality control/usability)

Software-based further development of a graphical user interface for existing sensor systems for quality control. Objective: improved usability, standardized measurement procedures, data logging/export, and, if necessary, live visualization and automated result logs.

Qualification level: Advanced Bachelor or Master level