

Cryogenic recycling methodology (separation of active materials)

Concept development and experimental preliminary work on a cold-based separation methodology for removing/separating active material from used electrodes/cells. Objective: Preliminary evaluation of process windows, material integrity, efficiency potential, scalability, and safety.

Qualification level: Advanced Bachelor or Master level