

Further development of an ultrasonic sensor system (NDT) for various applications

Optimization of an existing ultrasonic measurement system for defect/quality detection (e.g., carbon-based components). Measurement data and samples are already available. Tasks: Optimize measurement setup, plan and perform measurement series, signal processing/feature extraction, and evaluation of detection quality.

Qualification level: Advanced Bachelor or Master level